DIARY NOTES

DD/S W

10 May 1965

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning:

25X1A6a a. I advised the Director that our communications with the [REDACTED] 25X1A6a [REDACTED] are still good and that we are in the process of improving our communications [REDACTED] i.e., 25X1C4a [REDACTED] to outlying areas. In addition, I told him that we [REDACTED] 25X1A6a
25X1A6a He was rather surprised at this and asked that this information be included in the paper which the Office of Communications is preparing for the briefing on communications which the Director will give Congressman L. Mendel Rivers tomorrow morning.

and wealthy man who has little to do. The Admiral thought that we should enlist his support in our recruiting effort and that we might bring him to Washington for a briefing, etc. I will have to speak to Jack Earman, who knows a little of the background on this. This may or may not be a good idea, but we are obliged to follow it up.

2. [REDACTED] the Director's chauffeur, told me this morning that the Admiral wants a Mercury equipped exactly like the Cadillac. Apparently the Admiral told this to one of his security aides. (I will have to look into it since we do not have a Mercury which is not already assigned and we cannot buy another.)

4. Admiral Raborn telephoned about the following:

a. He said that he had been in touch with Mr. John McCormick, Executive Vice President of the Riggs National Bank, who had agreed to see me and give me information on real estate values in the Washington area. Later in the day [REDACTED] and I went to see Mr. McCormick, who had nothing very specific to offer except to say that any property in Northwest Washington west of Connecticut Avenue; Montgomery County, Maryland; and the McLean area near our Headquarters building are good bets for price rises in the near and long-term future. His real message was that Riggs would like to finance the Admiral's house when he buys one, regardless of how short of cash he might be. I passed this on to Admiral Raborn in a brief memorandum.

b. Admiral Raborn also said that Mrs. Raborn will arrive tomorrow, 11 May, and that he would appreciate someone picking her up at the Naval Observatory at 0900 hours on Wednesday, 12 May, to take her on a real estate tour. (I have [REDACTED] cranked up to do this and told him to use my car since it is air-conditioned.)
